Jewelry Designer Robin Dahlberg and her friends have an annual tradition to celebrate New Years by having a game party. In honor of that, and the fact that their home is 100 years old this year, they designed 100 cupcakes. Each with a different game. Oh, and as far as cupcake decorators are concerned, these ain't no punk bitches. Amazingly intricate work.

Check it out. It's a quite an impressive collection of games.
